1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are set out below:

a) Basis of preparation

The financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention, and are in compliance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

b) Revenue recognition

Revenue represents the fair value of the consideration received or available for the sale investments and is stated net of rebates and discounts.

c) Equipment

All equipment is recognized at the cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is calculated on the reducing balance basis to write down the cost of each asset, or the revalued amount, to its residual value over its estimated useful life using the following annual rates:

|                       | Rate % |
|-----------------------|---------------|
| Office equipments     | 12.5%         |
| Motor vehicles        | 25%           |
| Fixtures and fittings | 12.5%         |
| Computers             | 30.0%         |

Where the carrying amount of an asset is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, it is immediately written down to its recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposal of property, plant and equipment are determined by reference to their carrying amount and are taken into account in determining operating profit. Depreciation is charged fully on the year of purchase and no charge on the year of disposal.

d) Taxation

Income tax expense is the aggregate of the charge to the profit and loss account in respect of current income and deferred income tax. Current income tax is the amount of income tax payable on the taxable profit for the year determined in accordance with the relevant tax legislation.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on all temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying values for financial reporting purposes. However, if the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit nor loss, it is not accounted for. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred income tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

e) Impairment

The carrying amount of the companies' assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If such condition exists, the assets' recoverable amount is estimated and an impairment loss recognised whenever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable

f) Receivables

Receivables are recognised initially at fair value. Subsequently, a provision for bad and doubtful debts is recognised in the profit and loss account in the year when the amount due as per the original terms is doubtful. Receivables not collectible are written off against the related provision. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited to the profit and loss account in the year of recovery.

g) Cash and cash equivalents

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, and investments in money market instruments, net of bank overdrafts and money market lines. In the balance sheet, bank overdrafts are included in borrowings in current liabilities.

h) Dividends

Dividends are recognised as a liability in the period in which they are declared. Proposed dividend are disclosed as a separate component of equity until declared.

i) Comparatives

Where necessary, comparative figures have been adjusted to conform with changes in presentation in the current year.
